BOLSHEVIK LAW POINTS STATED

Five Cardinal Rules of Russian Rulers Include "Don't Work" and "High Wages."

(Correspondence of the Associated Press).

The five cardinal points of Bolshevism are, according to M. Oudendyk, formerly Dutch minister in Petrograd, as follows:

One—High wages.
Two—Don't work.
Three—Take other people's property.
Four—No punishment.
Five—No taxation.

"I wish," said Mr. Oudendyk, "to give a solemn warning to the working classes of all nations against the high-falutin notions which I have seen in Russia. Bolshevism, I say without exaggeration, is the end of civilization. I have known Russia intimately for twenty years under the old regime and under the new conditions. Never have the working classes of Russia suffered as they are doing at the present moment notwithstanding all that the present so-called ruling classes in the country choose to tell the world."

"The bulk of the workmen in Russia are today far and away worse off than they ever have been and the state of unemployment is simply terrible. When I left Petrograd the situation was one of utter starvation and most people hardly knew how they would exist through the following day. Wherever Bolshevism rules, the nation has been beaten to pulp and is utterly helpless. The future of the world is bleak. One thing is certain, that, never have been organized. It was in 1902 the Women's club came, without which the history of Erie would not be told. The beautiful motto of the club is: Progress, the colors purple and gold." Mrs. Henwood exhibited an invitation to a "Donation Visit," as follows: "L. D. Newton, yourself and lady are cordially invited to a donation visit for the benefit of Rev. A. M. Farley, to be given at the church in Erie, Ill., Wednesday evening, Feb. 1, 1917. Free lunch furnished at 8 p. m. Cash, grain or other produce thankfully received. Committee of invitation, Thomas Freck, Dr. H. K. Wells, Dr. Brown, R. L. Burchell, A. M. Cray, Arthur McLean, George H. Peters, Ralph Sage, Henry Marc, Frank Eddy, M. Thompson, L. D. Newton, W. S. Alden, Charles Smith, Lady M. S. Alden, Sidney Smith, Mrs. R. L. Burchell, Mrs. James Collins, Mrs. Joseph Weaver, Mrs. Alex. Dunlop, Mrs. Thomas Freck. Good music and singing expected."

left as she is now, Russia will be in a state of utter and complete ruin.

"Factories are at a standstill and are being ruined and, without the aid of foreign capital, they can never be revived. I have never seen or dreamt of the possibility of such corruption, tyranny, and the absence of all semblance of freedom as there is in Russia at the present moment."
